

EXCITING STUNT DOGS

“KIDS & PAWS”

BENEFIT SHOW!

(Branson, Mo) Stunt Dog Experience producer Chris Perondi has announced a one-time only special benefit performance Saturday, May 31 at 2:00 PM at the Clay Cooper Theatre. Titled “Kids and Paws”, proceeds from the show will benefit The Shepherd of the Hills Humane Society, going directly to the creation of an animal exercise and play area at the Adoption Center. Kids from the Boys & Girls Club of the Ozarks will be actively involved in the event because kids and animals go “Hand in Paw”. Stunt Dog Experience opens at the Clay Cooper Theatre on Highway 76 in Branson on May 28 and will run through August 9.

Some of the most incredible dogs perform amazing tricks in a show designed to bring laughter, excitement and joy to the whole family. The Stunt Dog Experience has traveled all over the United States performing to enthusiastic crowds and has appeared on the Oprah Winfrey Show, The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, Ellen DeGeneres, David Letterman and many more. The last couple years they have performed at Silver Dollar City for Kids Fest and were featured on the Lucy Pet Foundation float in the Rose Bowl Parade on January 1, 2014.

According to Perondi, “I love Branson and am excited to have a show at the Clay Cooper Theatre. I think it is important to give back to the community and I have selected two of my most passionate causes to support. Entertaining families brings joy to my life, but helping kids and animals brings fulfillment!!” These dogs are all rescue animals and love performing for those enthusiastic audiences.

The audience will be blown away with the Vegas-style show featuring over 50 jaw dropping tricks, enhanced by sound, fog, and lights. It’s like nothing you’ve seen before!

Tickets are available at the Clay Cooper Theatre or by calling 877-317-2604. You can also visit them online at Claycoopertheatre.com.
